

The index j in f_j is obviously not kerned correctly in LuaLaTeX. Surprisingly f_{j_j} is rendered correctly at the first index level (but not at the second). Math kerning should be applied as it is specified by the staircase kerning boxes.

While the above works well in XeLaTeX both engines render the index n in f_n^j too high – compare it to f_n .